Part C: Short Answer

Answer each question in one or two complete sentences.

1. What is a subordinating conjunction, and how is it different from a coordinating conjunction in Grade 4 writing?

A subordinating conjunction joins a dependent clause to an independent clause and shows a relationship like cause, time, or condition. Examples are because, although, when, since, while, and if. Unlike FANBOYS, which join equal parts, subordinating conjunctions make one clause depend on another.

2. Write a complex sentence using 'although' that includes both a dependent and an independent clause.

Although the soup was very hot, Mia ate it quickly because she was hungry. The clause 'Although the
