

Point of View and Narrator

Name: _____

Date: _____

Grade: Grade 5

Part A: Multiple Choice

Circle the best answer for each question.

1. A narrator says, 'I did not break the vase, even though my hand was near it.' This narrator is most likely:

- A) Unreliable, because the details suggest they may be hiding the truth
- B) Omniscient, because they know every character's thoughts
- C) Second-person, because they say you to the reader
- D) Third-person limited, because they describe one outside character

2. An author chooses first-person POV for a mystery story mainly to:

- A) Show every character's thoughts at once
- B) Make the reader experience clues alongside one detective
- C) Keep the narrator outside the story
- D) Speak directly to the reader using you

3. If a story is retold from the villain's third-person limited POV, readers most likely:

- A) Lose interest because the villain is boring
- B) Learn nothing new about the events
- C) Gain new understanding of the villain's reasons
- D) Hear every character's thoughts at once

4. Which sentence best shows an omniscient narrator at work?

- A) I felt the cold wind on my face as I walked
- B) You step quietly through the wet leaves
- C) Ben grinned, not knowing that across town his sister was crying
- D) Lina shrugged and kept walking down the path

Part B: Fill in the Blank

Write the correct answer on each line.

1. A narrator who twists the truth or hides facts is called _____ .

2. Authors pick a POV to control what the reader _____ about the story.

3. First-person POV makes readers feel the narrator's _____ very strongly.

4. Third-person _____ narrators give readers a wide view of every character's thoughts.

5. Reading the same story from a new POV often changes the reader's _____ of who is right _____.

Part A: Multiple Choice

Circle the best answer for each question.

1. A narrator says, 'I did not break the vase, even though my hand was near it.' This narrator is most likely:

- A) Unreliable, because the details suggest they may be hiding the truth
- B) Omniscient, because they know every character's thoughts
- C) Second-person, because they say you to the reader
- D) Third-person limited, because they describe one outside character

2. An author chooses first-person POV for a mystery story mainly to:

- A) Show every character's thoughts at once
- B) Make the reader experience clues alongside one detective
- C) Keep the narrator outside the story
- D) Speak directly to the reader using you

3. If a story is retold from the villain's third-person limited POV, readers most likely:

- A) Lose interest because the villain is boring
- B) Learn nothing new about the events
- C) Gain new understanding of the villain's reasons
- D) Hear every character's thoughts at once

4. Which sentence best shows an omniscient narrator at work?

- A) I felt the cold wind on my face as I walked
- B) You step quietly through the wet leaves
- C) Ben grinned, not knowing that across town his sister was crying
- D) Lina shrugged and kept walking down the path

Part B: Fill in the Blank

Write the correct answer on each line.

1. A narrator who twists the truth or hides facts is called unreliable.
2. Authors pick a POV to control what the reader knows about the story.
3. First-person POV makes readers feel the narrator's emotions very strongly.
4. Third-person omniscient narrators give readers a wide view of every character's thoughts.
5. Reading the same story from a new POV often changes the reader's opinion of who is right.